DEATH BREAKS PARTY.

Party of East Chicago Girls
Camping at Culver Planned a Party at Plymouth.

News of the death of a girl comrade was a sad ending to a camping party of East Chicago girls, who went to Culver on last Saturday, with the intention of spending a week or two. The crowd consisted of the Misses Mildred Evans, Mabelle Palmer, Belle Donovan and Charlotte Donovan. Miss Lelia Mercer of the same city, had just completed a week's camping at Maxinkuckee lake with a party of Plymouth girls composed of the Misses Lois Cresner, Hazel Rosenberg and Rose and Marguerite Holzbauer. All of the girls were friends and when the party from East Chicago came through Plymouth, they visited with their friends here. Miss Edna Olds, a cousin of Miss Mercer and a friend of the other crowd, had been touring southern Indiana, and planned on joining the crowd at Culver on Wednesday of this week. It was arranged that the entire crowd of girls was to come to Plymouth tonight (Thursday), when a party was to be given in their honor. Tuesday, the girls were heart broken to receive a telegram, announcing the death of Miss Olds, which occurred by drowning in a lake at Brazil, Ind. Miss Olds drowned by falling from a boat in which she was rowing. The once merry crowd of campers, immediately gave up their vacation and returned to East Chicago, to be present at the funeral of their companion, who was one of the most popular girls of the city.

ROW AT ARGOS.

Game With Ft. Wayne White
Sox Ends in Fifth Inning.

Argos and baseball don't seem to go well together. Sunday the game with the Ft. Wayne White Sox ended in a row in the fifth inning when the visitors were ahead by the score of 4 to 3. Argos bugs are not game losers, and have often demonstrated that they would be better off without baseball.

CHANGES IN COURSE OF
STUDY READYCOUNTY SUPT. STEINE-
BACH WILL RECEIVE
COPIES FOR DISTRI-
BUTIONState Supt. Aley Has Received
Outline of 1910-1911 Course for the Common School.

Robert J. Aley, state superintendent of public instruction has received from the state printer the 1910-1911 outline of the course of study in the common schools of the state, including the changes planned for the year and announced from time to time by the superintendent and the state board of education.

The outline is intended for the use of teachers and will be distributed through county superintendents in the county institutes. As formerly announced, the chief changes in the course are found in spelling, reading in the 7th and 8th grades and geography in the 5th grade. To the course for the year has been added a course of instruction in hygiene and care of the health of the pupil, including sanitation in the home, also a course in agriculture in the seventh and eighth grades.

Books for the supplementary study of reading for the seventh grade are announced by Mr. Aley as follows: "Evangelism," "The Great Stone Face," "Enoch Arden," "Snow Bound," "Legend of the Sleepy Hollow," "Horatius at the Bridge," "King of the Golden River," "Vision of Sir Launfal," and "The Merchant of Venice" (Lamb's Tales).

In the eighth grade, the reading will be based on the following: "Tom Brown's School Days," "Rab and His Friends," "Child Rhymes," "Oliver Twist," "Captains Courageous," "Child's History of England," "The Spy," "The Man Without a Country," "King of the Golden River," "Robinson Crusoe," and "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

WORK ON INTERURBAN.

Moredock Says Reports That Operations are Being Abandoned Not True.

Asked Friday what truth there is in a report sent out by a newspaper in a nearby town Thursday to the effect that work on the South Bend and Logansport interurban line had been stopped, Thomas P. Moredock, of the South Bend Logansport Traction company, said that there was no truth in it, following up this assertion by declaring that work on the line between here and Plymouth, a distance of 24 miles, was so far advanced that the officials of the company expect to have that part completed by winter, provided no unforeseen hindrances prevent them, says the South Bend News.

He said that all the grading between here and Plymouth has been completed with the exception of a mile and a half and that work on this was progressing as rapidly as possible. One consignment of ties has already arrived and the remainder, with the shipment of rails, is expected shortly. As soon as these arrive work on the laying of rails will commence. Arrangements have been completed with the Northern Indiana railway company whereby the latter will extend its tracks in the south end of the city to meet the interurban line, the latter using these tracks in the city. According to Mr. Moredock's statement, the contract for laying this extra mile and a half of track was let a few days ago and the work is expected to be completed within sixty days.

Work on the South Bend Logansport line was begun last fall. It is proposed to build the line all the way between the two cities in time but this will not be done this season. The length of the line when completed will be 67 miles. It is said that in all places along the line where the grading has been completed and the ground left alone weeds have sprung up in large numbers, giving rise to the report that the road had been abandoned. Mr. Moredock, however, gave the News a strong assurance that the work would be carried through, although he could not express his certainty as to just when the work will be finally completed.

POPULATION OF CITY
NUMBERS ONLY 3,836Census Shows That Gain for Plymouth in Ten Years is Only 180—Marshall
County Loses Over 900 in the Count
—Other Counties Lose.

The population of Plymouth is 3,836, according to figures of the 10 census made public Wednesday afternoon. The city shows a gain of only 180 souls, since the last census of 1900. The returns are the source of great disappointment to Plymouth residents, who expected a showing of at least 4500, which seemed to be indicated by the great number of dwelling houses which have been built here in recent years.

Marshall County Loses.
Far worse than the showing made by Plymouth, is that of Marshall county, which has 934 less residents now than it had ten years ago. The 1910 census gives the county a population of 24,175, while in 1900 the number of residents was 25,109.

Plymouth is Sixth.
Plymouth ranks sixth of the cities of the Thirteenth District standing below Warsaw, and ahead of Rochester. The cities in their respective order are as follows: South Bend, Elkhart, Mishawaka, Goshen, Warsaw, Plymouth, Rochester, Nappanee. The population of the other Marshall county towns, Bremen, Bourbon, Argos, Culver and Lapaz have not yet been received.

Increase in District.
Complete census returns obtained yesterday revealed many flattering increases in population in the Thirteenth congressional and census district. The largest gains were made by South Bend and Mishawaka. The latter city now having 11,908 inhabitants. South Bend's gain is

CULVER SCHOOL
HONORED BY DEPARTMENTMILITARY ACADEMY IN-SPECTED BY CAPT.
HARRIS OF GENERAL
U. S. STAFF.Marshall County School is Again
Included in Ten Institutions
Showing Highest Proficiency.

Culver, Ind., Aug. 6.—The war department has notified Culver Military academy that it has again been included among the ten schools, whose students have shown the greatest proficiency in military training. The selection of these schools is based upon reports made to the secretary of war by members of the general staff of the army, who each spring make a thorough inspection of all schools at which officers of the army are detailed. Out of the large number thus inspected, 10 are designated as "distinguished institutions."

The names of the schools thus selected are published in the Army Register and in addition, each school is entitled to appoint one of its graduates as second lieutenant in the army, subject only to physical examination. Culver, however, will make no recommendations this year, since the majority of its graduates are under age required for appointment.

The inspection of Culver academy was made by Capt. P. C. Harris of the general staff, and the report made to the department was one of the best ever made upon the condition of the school. Culver academy has won the honor of five successive years.

WORKS HOLD MEET-ING SATURDAY AND
ACCEPT PLANS.Sum of $1500 Must be Raised
Soon so that Present Orders
May All be Held.

A directors meeting of the Monarch Iron Works, was held in the office of the foundry in west Plymouth Saturday afternoon, at which time it was unanimously voted to rebuild the plant, which was destroyed by fire, provided that the amount of $1500 is raised by popular subscription. The balance of the $300 required to rebuild will be made by the insurance carried on the destroyed foundry. Another proviso attached to the rebuilding, is that the money be raised quickly, so that orders which the company now has may be retained otherwise the strongest incentive for reconstructing the plant will have been lost.

Dr. T. A. Borton, president, James Beatty, vice-president, Dr. N. B. Aspinall, secretary and treasurer, Alexander Stewart, Charles Johnson and James Dolan, the former three of Plymouth and the latter three of Chicago, constituting the board of directors were all present at the meeting Saturday. Plans prepared by G. C. Snyder, an architect of Ft. Wayne for the new building should it be rebuilt were accepted by the directors. The plans are for a building of the same size as the former, namely 100 feet long by 45 feet wide, and in the main are the same as the destroyed building with a few alterations. Among these are an iron roof and improved lighting, etc.

At present there are three subscription lists being circulated in the city, to raise funds for the reconstruction of the Monarch plant. What success is being met with is not yet known. The lists are in the hands of the business men, who are heartily in favor of assisting in the rebuilding of the destroyed industry.

Lease Anderson Foundry.

The Monarch people Monday leased the Anderson foundry in west Plymouth, in order to complete small orders, which the factory had on hand, to be executed at once. The Anderson foundry will be retained by the Monarch people until the other plant is rebuilt.

SAPP BOUND OVER TO THE
CIRCUIT COURTWAIVES PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION ON
CHARGE OF DESER-
TION.Was Captured in Kankakee
Marshes Living in Tent With Disreputable Woman—Faces Prison Term.

Joseph Sapp, through his attorney, Charles Kellison, waived preliminary examination on the charge of wife desertion before Justice C. P. Holloway at 1:30 Monday afternoon, and was bound over to the circuit court and in default of $500 bond was recommitted to the county jail to await trial.

Sapp was arrested Saturday morning by Sheriff Daniel Vorels and J. A. Molter of Plymouth and Marshall Harvey Williams of Walkerton in the Kankakee marshes a few miles from Walkerton, in a tent, where he was living in company with a disreputable woman, with whom he eloped from Plymouth on May 31, when he deserted his wife and five small children all under thirteen years of age. His location and capture were effected by a pretty piece of detective work, and strategem of Molter, who is the attorney and friend of Mrs. Sapp. By his efforts Sapp and his hitherto friend were located and the wife deserter was brought to justice. The woman with whom Sapp eloped is Nellie Ada Wellman Storms, with a couple other aliases, and who is now said to be applying for her maiden name restored. She was an inmate of the Foley house in this city, and when it was raided and finally run out of Plymouth, it is said that she offered to support Sapp, if he would go with her. It has been learned that the pair first went to Gary, where Sapp obtained employment and finally came to Kankakee marsh where they were living. Sapp had been working in harvest fields, to help support himself, it is given. Meanwhile his wife has been striving to support herself and five children by hard labor. She is of frail stature, and of poor health, and was the object of pity of all her neighbors.

They are charged with having the liquor on July 26, circus day, when seven barrels of liquor were confiscated in raids on the two places, conducted by local officers. The hearing for all of the cases have been set for Tuesday August 23 in Justice C. P. Holloway's court. Samples of the confiscated liquor were analysed and found to contain more than enough alcohol, to be legally termed intoxication.

Matronly Juveniles.

Miss Damaris Metsker was hostess to a number of her girl friends in honor of Gladys Yost of Warsaw and Jane Keiser of Pittsburg, at an afternoon tea party Friday. The young ladies, all of whom yet rank low in their teens, were arrayed in the tulle costumes of their "big sisters" and mothers, and had the finest time ever playing grown-ups. Martha Washington costumes were the favorite and of course very rosy cheeks, dark eyebrows, etc., were prime requisites. No one will say that some of the ruddy blossoms, extended in peculiar angles toward the ears, for they did not—so there. A nice luncheon was served on the veranda and lawn after which the young ladies were photographed in their finery at a photographers studio. The members of the party were the Misses Gladys Yost, Jane Keiser, Martha Howell, Agnes Masenna, Carol Humrichouser, Helen Thompson, Grace Milner and Damaris Metsker.
